About “The Teacher Trainer”
The Teacher Trainer is a practical journal for those involved in modern language, especially TESOL, teacher training. Whether you are a teacher who tends to be asked questions by others in the staff room, or a Director of studies with an office of your own, whether you are a mentor or a course tutor on an exam course, an inspector going out to schools or a teacher educator at a university, this journal is for you. Our aim is to provide a forum for ideas, information and news, to put fellow professionals in touch with each other and to give all those involved in training, mentoring and educating teachers a feeling of how trainers in other fields operate, as well as building up a pool of experience within our own field.

The journal comes out three or four times a year and makes use of a variety of formats e.g. articles, letters, comments, quotations, interviews, cartoons, spots. If the idea is good and useful to trainers, we’ll print it no matter what voice you choose to express it in.
